Midwest Regional Network for Intervention with Sex Offenders (MRNISO) is a non-profit professional network dedicated to reducing the incidence of sexual assault in our communities.

It is the belief of MRNISO that the professional who intervenes with the sex offender is an advocate for the victimized child and adults. Through mutual support, education, and recognition, MRNISO strives to improve and enhance the knowledge and skills of professionals who intervene with male and female sex offenders of all ages.

MRNISO endeavors to provide society with information pertaining to the protection of children and the community through effective interventions with sex offenders. MRNISO facilitates on-
